1. NTC Petition: Review of Traffic Calming Measures for East Columbia Street

There were 19 residents of E. Columbia Street present at the meeting. The CACT/CIT reviewed the traffic and accident data again. The group agreed with the CACT/CIT that traffic calming is warranted for the street.

At the last meeting, the 11 residents of E. Columbia who attended could not achieve consensus on traffic calming options for this street. It was split approximately 50/50 on support for speed humps versus support for bumps outs/nubs. As a result, the group did not want the CACT to send out the postcards until after a further discussion at the next meeting (tonight) since they did not feel they could get the required 75% support for either measure.

The CACT reviewed the various traffic calming options for the street again and their preliminary conclusion that speed humps or speed tables would be the best solution. There were a number of questions about the locations of the speed tables or nubs. Staff responded that the location and design would be determined once the project moved into the engineering and design phase.

After much discussion, there was still not consensus on either traffic calming solution although many people indicated that they would be fine with either solution. Therefore, it was decided that the postcard will have both nubs and speed humps listed; residents may indicate their preference for either one solution or both. If they do not want either option then they will be able to indicate that as well. Staff will mail out the postcards within a week and they are due back to staff within 30 days of the mailing.

2. Staff update

Wendy updated the CACT on development applications. Staff is currently reviewing a site plan for 800 W. Broad, an SE application for 472 N. Washington, and a subdivision/consolidation application for the Columbia Baptist Church.

3. Meeting Minutes Approval – December 13, 2006

There were no other edits and the minutes were approved unanimously.
